DEDICATION

One of the well worn treads on the stairway that leads upward and outward into the world beyond ELHS is the one marked "English Literature". It is a step that nearly all of us took at one time, our feet trying it, tentatively, as we felt our way toward graduation. It was a difficult class for many, embracing as it does, the works of Chaucer, Milton, Shakespeare, Wordsworth, and Dickens, but if you were lucky, you had Mr. Bail. You actually learned something!

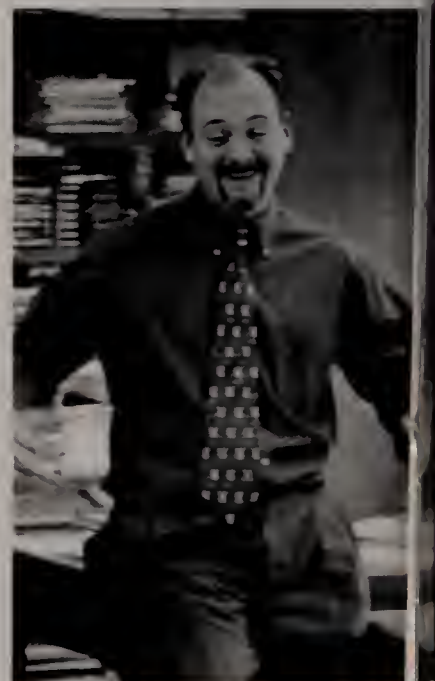

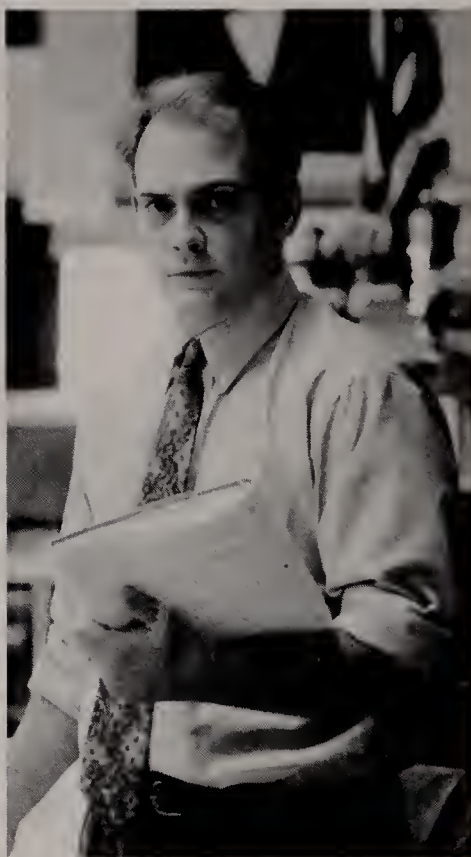

Born into a family of teachers (mom, dad, sisters, and now his wife are all members of the profession), Mr. Bail was born and raised in Granby, Massachusetts, a town in which his ancestors had settled some 150 years earlier, "or so says my grandmother," he remembered recently as we sat down for an interview. Growing up, he wasn't always a little teacher in disguise, in fact, he was once labeled "capable of doing better" (sound familiar?), and was often more interested in music and writing than in studying. He did tutor younger students while in middle school, but the family business wouldn't be his until much later.

Having graduated from college with a degree in communications, Mr. Bail came down with a case of writer's block, and had to shelve the notion of a literary career for the time being. The next best thing was a job at the Odyssey Bookshop in South Hadley, where he managed the store and rubbed elbows with the likes of authors Terry McMillan and Stephen King, in town to sign their latest books. "I felt I wasn't important enough to meet him," Mr. Bail humbly recalls of the encounter with King, though we might beg to differ. Immersed in the mysterious world of "the bookseller community", he did little else but read. Unfortunately, there were bills to be paid, and the siren sound of chalk on chalkboard eventually lured Mr. Bail to the Holyoke public schools.

"If you can teach there, you can teach anywhere," Mr. Bail says of his days in Holyoke, but for him it was to be only a temporary port of call. "You should student teach with someone you want to be like, but I didn't really have a role model there." Thus, Holyoke's loss became East Longmeadow's gain. In the fall of 1992, Mr. Bail apprenticed under Mr. McKinney and Mr. Calabrese (two of the finest mentors a novice could want), and was hired full time the following year. At first, ELHS seemed like "a corny little oasis," but it also "reminded me of my high school." He settled in, started a family at home, and began acquiring the kind of local celebrity that comes with teaching in our small town.

Now, as he nears the end of his first decade as a teacher, Mr. Bail speaks with a wisdom still beyond his years. And though he occasionally finds himself "expecting high school behavior" from his six year-old daughter (and receiving it, "though most high school kids don't cry at the drop of a hat), he is always intelligent, thoughtful, and understanding in his relationship with our generation. "You have to be able to deal with students and not hold anything against them, because they're not finished products" he told us, sounding very much like a young man to whom experience has been the most important teacher.

For being our most important teacher, for chaperoning our dances, for playing piano in our Spartanums, for leading our debate teams, for shepherding us through Shakespeare and Dickens, for helping us up the steps and out into the rest of our lives, the Class of 2001 dedicates the Aegis to Mr. Mark Bail with love, thanks, and admiration.

From the moment our parents first let go of our uncertain hands and our first hesitant steps were taken, we have been headed in this direction. Step by step, one foot after another, one grade after another, we have moved inexorably toward graduation. Often we felt as though we walked alone. At other times our spirits were willing but our feet were of clay. Looking back (as one can only do after having moved forward) we can see that we were never left entirely to ourselves. There has always been a hand to help us onto the bus, a teacher to steer us through the difficult classes, a coach to push us to do our best, a friend or two to console us along the way; indeed, those very hands that guided our baby steps so long ago, are the same hands that applaud us as we graduate this June. It has been a long journey just to get to this point. How many steps was it? We can't even begin to count them all, nor are we even sure we're finished. This may, or may not be the beginning of the end, but it is the end of the beginning.

Wow, I can't believe I'm a senior already. It seems like yesterday I moved here, going into 4th grade. Mom & Dad: Thanks for everything. Inyang & Azian: You two aren't all that bad. Good luck in school. Katie W: You were my 1st friend when I came here. I enjoyed our little talks even if they made us late. Mary B: I guess we never got all our classes together. Good luck and lay off the OJ. Jocelyn: Ferret, you lay off the OJ too. LaVonna: I am going to miss you. Who will I pick on next year? Yvonne: More problems than a math book. Johanna: Do you still have the twitch from Latin 1? LOL. Layne & Samantha: Good luck to the both of you next year. Have fun being seniors. Sarah C: Don't forget to bring your children to doctor's office. Melissa C: You always amuse me. And I don't always have food with me. Tracy & Donna: Can't we all just get along? You two have been friends for so long. Anna Y: I enjoyed all of your Russian food. Kate & Melody: I enjoyed all of our lunch talks last year. Sarah M: I loved our chalk fights freshmen year. All my underclassmen friends: High school wouldn't have been the same without you. It's been fun. Good luck Class of 2001 and God bless.

Football 1, 2.

I would like to start off by saying thank you to all the people who helped me over the years especially my parents and family who have offered me all the help they could. Isaiah, I have always looked on you as the older brother I never had, thank you. Pp son I'm glad that we became cool. Ashley I love you, I always have and I always will. Ryan is a really lucky guy and I hope he knows that. Ryan, hold on to Ashley for as long as you can because you never know what you have until it's gone. Amber, I guess it was never meant to be and I'm sorry. Molly, you have always been a shoulder for me to cry on, you have no idea how much it means to me. Thank you. Good luck to all the other people in my class. I hope you all live long prosperous lives. To all the classes to come, live your lives day by day and never look back. No matter what happens keep your eyes on tomorrow because you never know what the next day will bring you.

Brandy L. Ames

Cheerleading 1, 2; Environmental Club 2, 4; French Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Cope 2; Key Club 1.

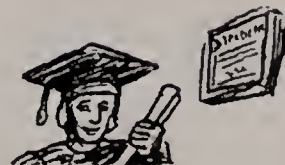

How quickly the years have passed, but we've all made it! I need to thank my Mom for always being there and helping me out along the way. You mean the world to me. Also, I want to thank my Dad for doing all he has. I love you. Jim, thanks for helping out when you could. Darlene you're great to me, thanks. Tab, although you're always cranky, you're a great big sister. Ashlee and Abby, school will be over before you know it, try hard in everything you do. Bonnie, my best bud, never forget NY. Ashley, no boys will ever hurt us. Kristy, you're silly. Sarah, my fellow lunch lady. Nnej, you're the only one who understands my point of view. Rhea, I don't recommend cheerleading in college. Renea, you're tall! And to everyone else, don't let anyone put you down. Keep smiling throughout life, things aren't that bad after all.

Andrew Auerswald

The first people I'd like to thank would have to be my parents for putting up with me through the years and always being there to help me out. Edwards: night at the Roxbury and all the trips to Eddie's. Liucci: your parties were good and the Yankees suck. Scholtz: hope you can survive next year and as always keep it. Nuhh: you truly are the Nuhh of all Nuhhs. Maggi: where's my rent money chinc bag? Legger: blazing sandycan. Halon: Do you wanna get a dub. Kristy: I hope the eggnog was good. Yaaa: summer school and McDonald's. Emily: thanks for the bloody nose, and tell me I'm not the best dancer. Sandra: it was a fun party until I got DUI. Becca: It feels like yesterday we were chilling at the library. Adrienne: the closet was fun. To all the other girls, it's been fun over the years. AF, MC, JN, KL, BS, LP, and CL. A saying I've heard over that I will probably say for the rest of my life which is "There's always next year" {Any Red Sox fan.}

I can remember while growing up, people told me that high school was the best time of their lives. When you hear that you kind of just shrug it off, say "yeah sure." You don't fully begin to appreciate how great it is, until it's over. High school has flown by, I wish I could do it all over again. Seniors: We've been through a lot, and had lots of people to share our experiences with. Youth football, Birchland food fights, school dances ... Nicole + Natalia: Thank you for being the best sisters a guy could ask for. Nicole: I hope you know how nice it was for me to have a sister to share life as a teenager with. I love4 you both, thanks for your support with everything. Shan: I hope we remain friends, thanks for being so great. Good luck in med school. To my dogs: Wrestling and football were great, even when I was forced to watch from the sideline. Younger guys: champs are made in the off-season. Scott: you have taught me what it is to be dedicated, I know you will do well in whatever you do with your life. Luke: You are the man, and I consider you my brother. Work hard in wrestling. Coach Cav, Kosell, others: Thank you for everything you have ever provided me to this far in life. You have given me more support and love than I could possibly use in 10 lifetimes. Engima is 4eva.

I can't believe its here already. This is it, it's over. That's nuts! I must say, I actually had a good time. I might even miss this place. Thanks everybody for everything. That's all, I'm done ... JK. Mom and Bruce: You don't know how much I appreciate everything. Thank you. Jules: HAVE FUN! That's all I have to say. You know you're my favorite sister. Tom: Be good, don't torture the rents too much. Save a little fun for me. Eric and Adam: Thanks for being my big brothers. Gram and Gramp: Thanks for being there, you're the "cool" grandparents. Budd: You are by far the best coach I've ever had. Now for you geeks who mean the world to me, my friends. Just know I love you all. Chelsea: We still gotta get married. Lin: Don't let the sleepovers stop, ever. Lori: You're like a sis to me. Kara: I'll come back and visit, I promise. Kathleen: The best friendships come from pure competition, proven! I'll never forget my buttercup twin. Scottie: You mean the world to me and you have no idea. Thanks for always being there, even at the dumbest blonde moments. There's no way I could ever forget you. Jeff: We've been through a lot, mostly my fault, but I think it was worth it. I love you. XC girls: Run 4 Fun. As for the rest of you: You know I love you guys. Everyone: Make the best of what you're given, and don't give up an opportunity you might not have again. I'll miss you all! Bye guys.

It would be too difficult to thank all who have helped make me who I am. Therefore I have decided that because we are all influenced by the people we encounter and the environment we live in, all deserve my thanks. You have all made some impact on my life so if you don't like me, it's probably your own fault. That includes family, teachers, and friends. I have also observed that people can be concerned with where they stand on people's "lists" and though I doubt this would cause a large problem, as far as I'm concerned if anyone is disappointed with this message that person should see me. MT: What's $e^{\ln 14}$? Bueno: If $\log_9(\log_3(\log_2 x)) = 0$ what is $x^{-1/2}$? Where did Boomba come from? Nick: Just because you asked: TICKLE-ME-CHEUNG. I've got nothing more to say.

"There will come a time when you believe everything is finished. That will be the beginning." — Louis L'Amour. To sum up all my thoughts and memories of my four years here at ELHS into only 1400 characters would be impossible. Some advice for you underclassmen: Take advantage of your last few years in H.S., your time here will come and go before you know it. To Mom, Dad & Nicole: Thanks for the support, love, guidance, and most of all, just being there. I couldn't have made it without you. To my fellow classmates: The journey wouldn't have been the same without each and every one of you. Especially to my closest friends, T. Fitz: So many good times, too little room. Remember, I will always be a better skier. Thanks for being such a good friend. Judge: Chemistry class (my great impressions of Felix). The rocket fuel, WOW! JD & DD: Countless games of backyard football and street hockey. Good times. John: thanks for the laughs. The legendary 360. You're supposed to land on your skis, not your face. Eli: As long as the Yanks are around, the Braves are never gonna win it all. Never forget the AEC, it is alive. EH: The world's most expensive knee. TD: Were you ever not on my baseball team? What can I say, these four years went by fast, but I'm glad to be out. J.R.- I've known you forever, we've done everything together, from sleepovers and getting in late, going to the cape, is your hood flying up? Endless memories, I'll never forget you, I love you, and best of luck in the future. K.L.-DB, CP, Izzo's class, we had some good laughs. M.B.- I'm a sucker for cornrows and manicured toes. Yo Yo Yo, wanna go to the mall? We had fun chillin, and I'm glad we've become friends. I love you hunny. C.S. Wanna sab in the Sabb? You can have him, your BO, and your bloody ice cream. C.R.- All I have to say is Art class. E.M.- Are you ready to go to the bathroom? How does this cell phone work? M.D.- All the nights watching TV at my house, you love it. T.D.- Thanks for making math class go by so much faster. You are so sweet. A.C.- Field Hockey, sleepovers, and everything, I'll remember. S.L.- Remember going to Serve-U? Thanks for always being so nice. D.B.- Thanks for the talks, and teaching me how to drive. Swim team- Keep it up, Coach G- thanks. Addie- don't ever listen to anyone, you never do, enjoy your last two years. Dad- I'm still your little girl, I love you forever. Mom- The one who always pushes me, I know you don't think so, but we are closer than you think. Who is that guy walking behind us everywhere? I love you. Class of 2001, thanks for the memories.

"Well I tell them there's no problem, only solutions. Well they shake their heads and look at me as if I've lost my mind. I tell them there's no hurry ... I'm just sitting here doing time." - John Lennon. I thought these past four years would be the longest four years of my life, but they turned out to be the exact opposite. It seems as if the first day of freshman year was only yesterday. But now it's time to move on and first, I would like to thank my parents. Dad: I can't thank you enough! The sacrifices you've made for me are far too great for any man to make. Mom: It's been tough. Good times, bad times, but you have taught me so much and I hope I make you proud. Coach Cav: You've taught me a lot about myself. Thank you! Coach Martin: You motivate me! Thank you! To the rest of the team: It's been nothing but family these past four years. I walked in the first day not knowing anyone, but you guys made me feel right at home. I had some of the greatest experiences of my life on that field. Thank you all! Here it is, time to thank everyone who's been there for me everyday of my life. I'd like to thank God for everything I have today. Mom & Dad: I know I can be a pain, but thank u for everything. Where I am today would never have been possible without u. No one can ever take your place. I hope u're proud of me. I love u. Brothers: I can't begin to say what u guys mean to me. Thanks for ur support through my life, and helping me make the right decisions. Kelly: We have so many memories. Rudy, Bubba, Nicky, 7am, the deer, "see if Toby will go through the screen" You're my life. Thanks for everything and letting me just be me. I love u so much and I'll never stop. U mean everything to me. I'm lucky to have someone like you who's beautiful inside & out. CHRISTIE: What to say, u're awesome. I pick on u a lot and u take it, that just means I like u. I mean its not like u stick ur hand in that coffee can or something to get the roaches out. Remember u're my buddy. U and Kel are the best friends, don't ever change. Lauren: We did it, we're off, better stay in touch so I can tell you about that muff. You are my best friends. U know I'll be there when u need me. Love u. Ken: In the u know. Jon: D'uh. gaiah rocks! "You can tell me that I got no class, look around, you'll see who's laughin' last. Don't give me speeches cause they're oh so droll, leave me alone, let me rock and roll" — RUSH

Freshman orientation seems like yesterday; now I'm writing my senior quote. The years flew by but I had a great time. To my family: Mom, Dad, Grandma, John, I love you guys and couldn't have gotten through without your support. AD: Hampton Beach! The drift, water-slides, your cannonball fan club. RI may have been better. The life-guard, clam hassle, Bobcat + his hilarious comments. JL, BL, TL: You guys "bootsy". Disney World - the best time of my life. "White River Junction" my only time camping; I'd go back in a second. LF: You're driving tonight, out of gas? Fifth Alarm: I can beat you in pool. TF: Still grounded? You just love working at the Nozzle, 43 hrs this week? AC: See you at Harvard. Junior year. MA: Spartan Hockey rules, "I heard the smack when I was cooking burgers". JT: What's up, want to Body Box? MB: Romito's for lunch? Psyched for hockey? BP: The campout. WOW. Bonfire all night; the 2 am robbery. PG: Fridays at your house were great. "Set up the tee and five the boot" maybe the funniest thing. MD, SB: Good times. AN: Smell that? "Teah, it's not that good" LP: What're you doing "no-hack". You love the ECC. Your party was massive. You + John JV Allstars. Pitch and Putt. Do you want to play those kids for money? MC: "maybe" F.G. this summer-you love it. Golf team: Good luck next fall. Steve: D1 or else! Class of 2001: Whatever you do, wherever you go, have fun. I'll miss you all.

During freshman year graduating seemed like an eternity away, now I find myself writing my senior quote. Four years flew by way too fast; I'd like to thank everyone who was there along the way. Mom and Dad: I know I haven't always been perfect, but thanks for being there for me the whole way through. I will make you proud. I love you. Gram: You've always been so good to us. You'll probably need a magnifying glass to see this, but I love you too, you've been the best. Dan: Thanks for being there for 17 years, you're a great big brother. Lee: The Cape, Halloween (Mr. Rob), rent-a-cop so fun. Ant: Since the womb. The Drift, Saturdays on Sutton P1, RI, your house, golf (eh), the invention. Tom: The shed, ski trip, Phys. Day, and Wendy's JL: Disney, Jr. skip day (oh my) JT: Boots, handy? 9 ones, Kenny's, thanks. CC: Backyard football, skiing, the trip. AC: 7th grade 1-on-1 battles. MA: Physics Day- Coughlin's? CR: JD, you made me look ... AN: Teah, it's not that good. BP & PG: Have fun next 2 years. DC: Yo chin, small ball? To everyone and anyone else (BtheJ, CJ, GE, MD, SV, NR, AR, BB, KL, MD, SB, BL, JS, LP, SA, AW, DW, BW) You've made school go by fast and the weekends memorable. I can't thank you enough. Congrats to the Class of 2001, everyone else, good luck and have fun in whatever you do. The Captain was here.

Well, that went by way too fast. It's like tomorrow's almost over before today even starts. It seems like yesterday I was imagining how distant and intangible graduating was, and now it's all within reach. These past four years have been one surreal blur, whirring by. I wouldn't have wanted it any other way! Can't say I'll exactly miss the high school portion of my adolescence, but all my friends, old and new, sure have made it worthwhile. Friel: We are the true innovators of stop& go animation. "Raaaah!" M3r: Don't let Dead Fish bring you down, always follow the Neon Cowboy, it knows the way home. Z: Jamming in my cellar has been a blast, you are a virtuoso at any instrument you pick up, jeez! "Now that's just disgusting."-Ladies' Man. Seth: Control Damien! Stop electrocuting leprechauns in bathtubs with various electrical appliances, it's just not healthy. Ed: The 4 of us hacking in your living room listening to Can You Pass The Acid Test? was undeniably the best hack I've ever had. Sandra: Indiana Jones. Drew: The Dome! To Everyone: Let's not forget all those wasted days spent at the center way back when, I know I'll always remember them! It's tough bringing closure to this part of my life in a single paragraph. In summary, thank you everyone who have made a (positive) difference in my life! P.S. Long live the Fab Four!

Only yesterday I walked through the doors of ELHS, scared to death! Today, I walk out to a new life, a new beginning. I'm sure that all the memories I've shared, all the friends I've made, and all the people I've met will stay in my heart forever. Over all others, I want to thank my Lord and savior, Jesus Christ, who, above all, has helped me come this far. Mom, you're everything to me. Daddy, thanks for always protecting me. Your little girl is all grown up! No matter what happens, I will love you both till the day I die. Cindy, Lius, Milly, and kids: you make my life worth living. Eddie: these next 4 years of your life will be the years that define you ... make good use of them! Christine: you'll always be my baby. Sarah Manley: I love you girl! Ari: I'll always be taller than you cuz at least I'm over 5 feet! Olga: sisters forever, right? Katie: do you wanna go to your locker? Ryan: thanks for coming to visit me at work. KB, Jenny, Sarah, Lin, Chelsea, Shannon, Ashley, and Vanessa: never change ... you all hold a special place in my heart. My best girl, Gorda. You are the best friend I ever had, but you're still questionable! Jonathan: my soulmate. Ever since I remember, I have loved you, and I always will. To anyone I have overlooked, THANK YOU!!! High School has flown by faster than I could have imagined. Looking back, there have been many great memories. Mom and Dad: thanks so much for everything you've done. I haven't been perfect, but I appreciate how caring and understanding you've been. You're the best parents anyone could ask for. I love you with all my heart. Joana: I don't know how you put up with me all these years. Keep up the great work in school and have fun. I love you. Kevin: Oh jeez! "Aero Dynamo," Holy Cross, milkshakes out the window, Nerf wars, caddy-ing. You've been a great friend. Lee: "The phone man", "the shed", Grandma Dickson. Thanks for making us all laugh. Nickels: May 12th, the Captain, "did someone just fall down the stairs?" Chris: My Rocky Mountain partner, ski trips, Bromley, Blue Jays. Dan: Thanks for driving all those nights. S. End, golfing at the Elm. Mike: Sign language, xc, frosty wars, obliterated. Authier: Kenif and Noz. Jeff: how bad was Neil? You're a great kid. Mike D: You were my first best friend. I'll never forget Busy Bee or the fun times we've had since. To everyone else who has made these four years special, there's so much to say but not enough space to say it. AD, CJ, GE, NR, EG, JS, DC, JL, AC, CR, AN, SQ, KL, CL, BW: You all have made high school that much more exciting. It's been an amazing ride, and I'm just glad that I was there to be a part of it with you all.

First, I would like to thank God for seeing me through these 4 years. Mom and Dad: Now you see why you pushed me to do so well. I see how it pays off. I love you to death! Not everyone could get the love and support I got from you. Even though you might be separated, I still love you just the same. When family was what I needed, you were there. I LOVE YOU! Kira: No matter what, I'll always remember you as my little sis. Even though we grew apart there will never be a time I'll forget about you. Oh, and don't grow up too fast. Tarra: Well, what can I say? We've been through a lot. Remember, it's not what you say, it's who you say it to. Don't worry, you and Kira will always be in my heart! Watching you guys grow together brings tears to my eyes. You guys have years behind your friendship, don't waste it for me. Amarilys: You have to be the sweetest person one could ever meet. I Luv You Girl! You're my pep on a gloomy morning and my sunshine on a cloudy day! I'll miss you. Brandon: I had to save the best for last. You are one in a million. We might not have talked that much but when we did you always made me laugh. I'm glad to have met a person like you. Keep that Strong Confidence you have and you will go far! I wish the best for you! First and foremost I would like a thank my parents for bringing me up and always being ready to help me with open arms. Thanks Mom and Dad. I love you. Matt and Tim: You two have been hard to endure but I don't know what I would have done without you, I know you guys will go on to big things. To my second set of parents, Auntie Donna and Uncle Rick. You have always been there for me and there have been many good memories. Thanks for putting up with me and for your generosity. Lauren: I have known you my whole life and hope to know you for the rest of it. We have been through thick and thin together. Jay and Matt: we have been friends for just about forever. When I think about the good times we've had I can't help but laugh a little. Anytime we have something to do or we were just killing time we always found a way to find something funny. All I have to do is think back to Maine or Absolute Zero and I can laugh. Kara and Aimee: We had some fun times. Orienteering!! To the football team: You guys are my brothers. I don't know what I would have done without the game and my team. Good luck next year. To the football coaches. Thanks for the tireless effort you put in to make me a better player, but, more importantly, a better person. To all of the people I can't fit in here, I'm sorry, but thanks for all of the good memories.

Mom and Dad: I am finally graduating and I couldn't have done it without you. Thank you for being by my side. I love you. Michelle: Sometimes you're annoying but I couldn't ask for a better sister. Lora: Stop playing donkey in the car. You're going to break the seat. I couldn't ask for anything more. Erin: Be careful of old men in cars. Andrea: We have fun up in Palmer, don't forget that summer. Carmela: Those fun times after school, too bad you're in RI Angela Lobas!!! Thank you, Auntie Yolanda for always trying to help me out. Ryan: I'm glad you're back in MA. Texas wasn't for you. Melissa: I hope to see you soon. Mike: Good luck in the Air Force. Good luck to the Class of 2001.

How I'm supposed to sum up my last 10 years of my life is unknown to me but I'll try my best to show gratitude to all. Mom, ty for always being there for me and always pushing me harder than I could myself. Dad, ty for always helping me with anything and supporting me so strongly, especially with soccer. Reid: Good luck in the future. Jon: Thanks for being such a fancy friend since 7th grade. Also, for being a great drummer and a good teammate. Charles: Thanks for being my friend and bandmate and staying sane in hard times (if you know what I mean). Good luck with Kristin. Joe: Thanks for being a cool guy and a great guitar player/vocalist. (Don't worry about the "comments"), just have fun. OTL: We got farther than I expected and I hope to keep going. Hmm. Who else? Oh yeah, Laurin, almost forgot ... yeah right. Hun, you're the best thing that's happened to me since ... I can't think of anything. You changed my life immensely for the better and made me look at things differently. I don't know who I'd be without you. TY for being there for me always (when you're in a good mood .. j/k), but you're there for me. I will always love you and will miss you greatly. For everyone, I'd like to just wish you good luck in the future, with whichever path you may take. "Live another day, climb a little higher, find another reason to stay" -John Petrucci.

At least you didn't hit a tree. AeroJoe: Rockstar! Outside The Lines is awesome. Remember Scythe? Wish I didn't. Even with so much going on in, we always managed to focus on our schoolwork! (fat chance). Ryan: The bat mobile! Did it pass inspection yet? Oh well, maybe next time. Oofanooga! What did the car say to the van? Better watch out. Remember when we went to the DT concert? Nah, I don't either. Boo Hoo! Bueon: 3v3, CUV doesn't stand a chance! Miek Q.: OTL's biggest fan. Cheung: LB is money. Renee: You are the main reason why my last 2 years of high school have been the greatest ever. We've had so many great times together; I hope that we will share many more. You've always been there for me through good times and bad. I'll always remember our trips to the Nadeau's (Even when Joe wasn't there), stuck in the Big E for 10 hours, singing in the car, dropping my wallet, "What's 80 degrees?" Baby baby, the Ching Chun China, Katches, and all those times I always ended up making a fool of myself. I love you. "Time is the king of men; he is both their parent, & he is their grave, he gives them what he will, not what they crave"-Shakespeare. Make the most of everyday you have because what one day may bring, another may take away. Mom & Dad: You've worked so hard to get me where I am today, and I'm very grateful. You've sacrificed so much just to help me succeed. Your encouragement, love & support have meant everything to me. Thanks, I love you. Mandy: mi companera de crimen & my "cousin". What day is it? FB games & carjacking-it was worth it, fried dough was the greatest. You have so much potential and a great future. Never let anyone stop you from making it big in NYC! u really are my best friend:) Tim: I'm your #1 fan. I don't know what I'd do w/o you. You're the one who makes me happy. Thanks for always being there for me & for being so good to me. But, you should have told me earlier. I love you. Emily: I got through all my classes b/c of you. You made it easy to laugh ... all 4 years of high school & even before that. Thanks for being such a great friend. Erin: Our heart2heart talks made me think twice about EVERYthing. No matter what we disagreed on, it never came between our friendship. Thanks. Kim: We ALL hated her, and I'm glad you were there w/me to give her attitude. Rose: Everything will work out fine. You'll do great in whatever you do, w/ whoever you're with. Class of '01: Good luck in everything you do.

I would first like to thank my parents for all of their love, help, and support. If it wasn't for you punishing me when I got bad grades and praising me when I did well, I probably wouldn't have made it this far. I also want to thank you for giving me the freedom to make my own decisions; if you had done differently, I wouldn't have my sweet baby Victoria today. Thanks, I love you both. Keith, thanks for all of your inspiration. You've helped me keep my head up through good times and bad, never leaving my side, never giving up. You are a wonderful, devoted boyfriend and a warm, loving father. Thanks for your love and support. I love you honey. I am very thankful for all that I have today. I couldn't be any happier with the choices I've made in my life. I've been blessed with great parents, a loving boyfriend, and a beautiful baby. Lastly, I just want to thank everyone who supported me and helped me through the years; you guys made it a lot easier. Good luck in the future!

Looking around at the familiar faces I have grown up with over the past four years, I don't think any one of us doesn't feel as if the good times are coming to an end. The truth of the matter is that this is just the beginning. WE must remember that graduation will not only be the last day of high school, but also the first day of the rest of our lives. It's time we just go crazy and take on everything it has to offer! Mom and Dad: thanks for being there. Jen and Bev: You are not only my sisters, but also my best friends. J.W. 'You just went through a red light!' Ha ha! We've had some craaaaazy times! R.H: "Don't call me unless there's a black out!" "Don't worry, you were always one of my closest friends! M.R: "That's NOT my purse!" "I'm still praying you don't ever get robbed! J.M: Been on any blind dates lately? Say hi to Pebbles for me. K.P: "Volley ball rules!" K.B: "Wazzuuup!" T.S: Don't let your head start spinning!" Good luck to the rest of you guys! And just remember: "You gotta stand tall and break away the ties, drop balls and hold that head up high, the world is fast and youth ain't gonna wait, so grab a hold before it gets too late." -MH

There once was a boy that lived in a small town /
Every day he was pushed around / Everyone tormented his mind and soul / And some days he wished to hang from a pole / This little boy who lost his kite / His lifeline to hold in the night / Every day if drifted farther away / But every day in this place/he had to stay / Over time the boy grew more / He still had the same thing in store / All those years he watched and learned / Everyone just spat and burned / Until his eyes became teary and sore / And more years passed and he realized that / They will all disappear like the Cheshire Cat / So he sat by and waited / for more years to pass / but suddenly he got attached / This little boy who found the kite one day / Wandering just in sight/Now he finds himself drifting away / Now he wished to stay.

After my freshman year, I was kicked out of this school for two years, and it hurt losing the time, but now I'm back and I've proved that I could come back and graduate with my class. First I would like to thank my parents: Mom, you've helped me through a lot of tough times and I appreciate everything you have done for me. Dad: I thank you for always being there when I was in trouble or had problems with the law. You also helped me through tough times with Mom and I thank you for that, too. Grandpa and Grandma: I'll never forget either of you because you've done the most for me. Anytime I had a problem, you guys were there and I thank you. To all the W*IES, I couldn't ask for a better group of friends. You guys have stuck with me my entire life. Oldman: It stinks you're not graduating with us, but hey, there's always next year. Edwards: You've been my boy ever since we were in second grade, and I intend to keep being boys the rest of my life. Nuh: Even though you're a RAT, you're still my boy K*W. Witz: I owe a lot to you man, I have no idea how I would have made it through last summer without you, thank you. Snail Boy: you've been a WHE* from the start, KEEP IT that way. Halon: You were probably the first kid I ever really BIE* with and it was phat, thanks man. To the rest, I'll never forget any of you, KEEP IT. S.F.L Forever.

Mom + Dad: Thank you for pushing me to do well all these years, remember that it's not your fault I don't know good advice when it smacks me in the face. Becky: Make sure you finish school, watch out for paint factory explosions, Godsmack chick, oh shut up you, you're on the wall, the fan. RB: So many B-rides, Illegal driving, drunken mailboxes and exploding sandpit shotguns, TTE rules, make sure you don't forget your cup, aarrgh, no, no I'm on the wall, you're on the floor. EC: Hey ... that's a big stop sign, Jeff and the Weasel and the tracks, socialism, I love hippie sports, the desk, BA: 24/7, Tiger Woods, coin wars-money well spent. AJ: Nose with tornado power, locker room workaholic, comic books. DK: Garcia will love on. "Well if I dug my own grave then I can dig myself out."-Revellie

"It was a dream and then it hit me, reality struck and now my life is all shifty and it all moves fast"- Papa Roach The past couple years have had their ups and downs. Whether it was how we got all the new rules and all the good things taken away or how the time went by fast ... maybe too fast. We all can say we are happy to get out of the place that held us hostage for the last 4 years but you all can say you are gonna miss it too. No other place would bring so many people together, even though it wasn't the most fun while in the building. My biggest regret was losing touch with my friends. Sal-you will NEVER defeat me! BB-you know the Rick will never let you down. AN-you know what I say! I don't like it! CM-try and crack that snoring. JF-I know you'll beat the system some day. MP-lucky, lucky popsicle. JP-You are the funniest kid I have ever met. ELHS wrestling-the best team I've ever been on; no matter how bad things get, good luck and DON'T GET STUCK! Mr. G-you are the best teacher I ever had, thanks for everything. I won't forget any of you. Thanks Mom, Dad and Michelle(I love you!) for dealing with me (not that you had a choice anyway!). Good luck Phil and Ian, don't take High school for granted. ELHS-I've taken what I needed, I am outta here. "Life's been sucked out of me and this routine is killing me"-Papa Roach (again)

Finally it's my senior year! Right now I'd like to take the time to thank all those people who have been there for me and have made my life complete. The first person I'd like to thank is GOD. Next are the most important people in my life. I wouldn't be here if it wasn't for them — my mom and dad. Thank you Mom and Dad for always being there for me when I needed you, for giving me guidance, support, and LOVE. I'll always remember the wise advice you've given me; "The best way to predict the future is to invent it." Now to thank a couple of friends—Thank you Renee for being a good friend from day one. Rhea with your crazy laugh. Nina for being a great friend. And the rest of the people I missed, you know who you are: JD, BH, BW, KW, TJ, SJ, KL, KB, KP, NC, JS, CM, my younger brother Chris. To my best friend Melody who has been there for me when I needed advice: You've been there through my ups and downs, thank you. Nate for always listening to me and treating me good. To all the teachers: even if you think we don't know this, education is the passport to our future, so our education is in your hands. Now it's time for a new life. Good luck to the rest of the seniors and goodbye. ELHS.

Yes, I am an evil deaf beaver-I admit it. Chelsea: You've always been there 4 me on and off the field. Thanks. Kristy: I miss you! Who are you gonna choose? You know who I like. Kravitz: "Like Whoa." LTL. Doug: I am the intimidator. Lori, Ashley, Steve, Dave, Kathleen, Missy, Vanessa, Mike, Katie, Joe, and anyone else I forgot: Thanks. Coach G: You never gave up on me. You have no idea how much that helped. Thanks! Miss Lu: Thanks 4 teaching me 2 love lax. I know how much time you've put in. We all do really appreciate it. Coach Polk: You've made such an impact on my life, I can't even explain it. You taught me 2 always appreciate everything I do and make the best out of everything that comes my way whether it's positive or negative. I'll never forget what you taught me. To soccer, b-ball, and lax teams: I'll miss you guys. Good luck next year. Never lose that lovin' feeling. "Every time we're down you can make it right, and that makes you larger than life." -BSB Ha ha! You guys truly made my high school experience great. Thanks!

I would like my family, especially my parents, for everything they have provided for me over the years. Kris and Matt, you have been a pain, but thanks for everything. Christina, thank you for always being there for me. It seems like everything so far has worked out between us and I'm happy everything worked out the way it did. FNA, we had fun these couple of years causing havoc. Verto, eggy, tucci was fun, maybe someday I'll return. Bill, the summer was fun, thanks for all the advice. Keep in touch. Springer, someday we will take out the Z24. Sal, chooch, sal-a-wicker. Danielle, Fruitcake, Little Man, chood of two, triple tap with a spin. Zucco, I'm da-da-da wata boy. Kourt, AC. Petey Pete. Chuckles. Bradley. Brittain, you and cap'n make it happen. Shannon, you are such a loser. Lindsay, Freak!! Mandy, Ping-Pong, bowling was always fun. Missy, shut up. To everyone else, keep in touch. It's been fun.

First of all, I would like to thank my mom and dad for helping me through the last four years. Without you guys I never could have done it. Christina: Let's go downtown. How many times did my phone ring? Andrea: Go back to school! I had fun chillin with you, Carrie, Phil, and Earl. Stacy: How far can we walk? Tiffany: You should have never left ELHS. I'll never forget our nights out and the time we snuck into the club. Tykia: Is my tire falling off or did I leave my emergency brake on? Lindsey: Look at those peaches. Manuela and Sandra: I'll never forget chillin in my room and on my porch. Kate: You're a great sister. Hope you and Stanley stay happy. Paptio: You mean the world to me. I'll never forget you. I love you. Nicole: We have had some funny times together. Let's not get lost in NYC with no money anymore. Kim: School wouldn't have been fun without you. Cathleen: Lunch with you is fun. Angela: You're mad chillin. Phys. Ed. was fun, so was math. We had fun in New York. Angela M: Jose and Wally was funny, and the drives to the Getty were exciting, but you need to stop lying and stop making up stories. Good luck to the Class of 2001.

Hey, all you who helped me make it through high school, just wanted to say thanks, it was a fun ride. I will miss you all. CM: It's hard to believe everything that has happened over the past 15 years. It doesn't seem like such a long time anymore. Never 4get OM, possibly some of the best times ever. MQ: Never 4get all the great times we had. You made me laugh more than anyone I know. Remember the original movie FW. Nudge, nudge. AH: I wouldn't have made it through my senior year without your. Never change, you are great. I think everything else I have to say is in Lit's The Perfect One, LYB. JL: So many memories Jon. Your dad in the duck suit, or waiting in the TV room while you "clip" your rabbit. RH: Some of the best times were with the band, remember when we started out, hard to believe we couldn't play at all. Outside The Lines rocks!! SM: What Sarah? 15 South Street? I'll be right over. KP: I have known you for so many years, I probably have a great memory for every day. You've been a great friend, I will never 4get you. JK: I only really got to know you in the past year, I wish it were longer. Butter your breadsticks and never 4get drama. OS: You are part of the reason I am who I am. I thank you. Never 4get all the great parties at your house. Mom and Dad, I thank you for always supporting me. Bros: HS goes by so quick, make the best of it and have fun.

These four years have gone by so fast! It seems like it was just like yesterday when I walked into high school for the first time, not having any idea what to expect. But these four years have been the best of my life. I will remember the past years for all the great moments that they have brought, and I will never forget them. Mom and Dad: Thank you for everything that you have given me, and for caring so much about me. If it weren't for you, I would not be the person that I am today. I know sometimes I can act ungrateful, but I know what you have sacrificed for me, and I thank you so much for that. Matt and Phil: You two are my best friends. We have had some great times together, and I hope we have many more in the future. I would like to thank you for putting up with my antics, which I am sure can be annoying a lot of the time, and being there for me no matter what. Lauren: You will always be one of the guys, good luck in the future. Aimee and Kara: We never made that movie, but we all know that if we did, we would have won. Cross Country team: Good luck next year, I expect to be hearing about Western Mass. Championships. "There's always a side that wants to take more, and go that one more round. Because going that one more round when you don't think you can, that's what makes all the difference in your life." -Rocky Balboa

Don't worry. I won't make a list. I'd like to think that everyone who affected my life these past four years know who they are, and how much they've meant to me. A part of me would like to use this space to say something meaningful, something really profound that years from now I'll look back on with admiration for my own creativity and subtle wit. However, the rest of me doesn't know what to say. I supposed that the one statement that might encapsulate our experiences and ELHS is, we were here. For better or for worse, come hell or high water, the hundred and ninety some odd of us came here every day for four straight years and lived our lives. Though we now may go our separate ways, one fact remains. We were here. We are the Class of 2001, and that cannot ever be changed.

It's been a long, strange trip, everybody. Have fun.

It has been a long journey to get where I am today. I couldn't have made it without my parents pushing me to do better in school and telling me once everything is over with, you will feel like you overcame the obstacles in your life. Cathleen, always remember the cape, riding our cool bikes taking only water with us, yah right. Let's sit on your roof and pass the night away. I've been through too much, that's why I have the best memories to share with you. Alyssa, you always made my car look better, not! Jay, you will always be my best friend, just don't let me kill you first. Dirt roads are my specialty. And Mrs. Cleavall, without you I would have never made it to where I am today.

Meg Ryan

To my Mom, Dad, Grandparents, my Brothers and Sisters: Thank you for everything, I love you. Kim-all I can say is yup it's chilly in here-Mr. Moon: Being a tomato in S.C, Jr. semi, 21 + 4, and never getting in trouble! The list goes on and on, you are the greatest friend anyone could ask for. Renea: BIG BABY! We have had so many laughs to count, don't you ever change, always be outgoing and sweet. Kristi I never really meant to put a fruit-roll-up on your seat, it just sorta happened! Gina, don't worry one of these days we'll both find the lucky ones, no more of this stuff, you know what I am talking about. D.D.G, and B.S, ha no more math class for us to suffer in! Thanks to all who made my passage through these past twelve years possible. There are many people who have helped me work towards my goals and many people who have deterred me as I trudged along for these past twelve years. I really appreciate the help of those who have made me what I am, people who taught me to laugh, weep, enjoy life, and to strive for happiness. Without these people in my life I may not have made it this far. To those who have ridiculed and hurt me, I forgive you. I want to pass onto the next step of my life letting everyone know that I hold no grudges. I also apologize to all that I have hurt. I never wanted to cause pain in the lives of others, but along the years these things are inevitable. Just know that no malice was intended and that I offer my humble apologies. To all the underclassmen, the years to come will be hard. Decisions must be made and your lives will change drastically because of them. Keep that in mind while you make these decisions and contemplate the consequences. To all my friends, I love you guys. You have made my time in school worthwhile, all of you. Bill, of all of my friends you were there for me the most and I have to thank you for that. Finally to my parents and family ... how could I possibly express my feelings toward you in words? You have done everything for me and I love you for it. WATCH OUT WORLD, HERE I COME.

Christi Siano

Where to start? Grandma: I always knew you'd save me. Thank you, I love u. Mom: Don't worry, I didn't forget about you, I love u too. CR: So many words, so little space. You're like my sister. Florida & NY (J&J), M&B, ALC, the twins. I don't think I've ever laughed or cried as many times with anyone as I did with you. MB: Meggy, fav friend (TGFUW), the desert, BMP, that habeeb kid. Hey where's our friend? Stay off my grandma's chair, ILL. Let's go skiing. Yuckum. MK: Hey Billy Bob. Remember the railroad tracks and dirt road days? You're hotboxed but it's all good. PH: Can I drive? Put on your seatbelt, you're in for a crazy ride. JmL Padidle. I really won all those times you cheater. Let's chill in my neighborhood until 7 AM and rip out mailboxes. CC: SAB in the Saab. You can have him and your bleeding vanilla ice cream cones. LC: 2nd grade, white shorts (who's were they?) and lady bugs pretty much sums it all up. SL 8th & 9th grade center rats. Good luck with everything you do. PM: 8th grade, winding up SmaCK. JS, CS, JL, RH, KM, ME, TF, TM, EC: I'm sure I'll end up seeing you guys around ... maybe not ... AB, MR, KW: Good luck with your last year. Mrs. Thompson: Thanks for trying to get me not to skip. Your bad girls will miss you ... To the rest of the year 2001: Good luck with everything, its been fun.

Good luck to the Class of 2001!!

School is finally over, wow. I want to thank those people who helped me along the way. Jon, I don't know what I'd be doing if you hadn't given me a little guidance. We've had some great times and I'm sure college will be awesome, parties and then some. You'll do fine, but if you need something you know I'm here. Molly, really, what can I say? You're closer to me and know me better than anyone. I want to thank you so much for introducing me to Jenna. You can't even begin to know the connection that her and I have. I've been looking for someone like her for so long, and I couldn't ask for more. I just wish her and I had met at a more convenient time, but things will find their place. I'll always be there for you because you are for me. It's strange how life goes by so fast and you don't even notice it. I don't really know who it was, but to the person who got me interested in track, thank you. It will be a part of my life for many years to come. To all those people I don't really know, good luck to you in the future. If there's something I learned that will stick with me, some days you're the dog, and some days you're the hydrant.

Mom and Dad, thanks for being fun parents. I appreciate that and everything that you've taught me. To all of my friends, thanks for being such great people. I wouldn't have wanted to spend the last 4 years with anyone else. Katie: Greatwoods scrabble, thanks for listening to my BP and CLGG dilemmas. Kathleen: La ventana esta bien ... I'll jump!, I'm an EPOD with LOCS, are you more cynical now? Sara: Starbucks talks and the trampoline, sure ... I'll be your mommy. Cara: Pre-XC chats were great, "the BIG one", you're my weird half, Mt. View trips, I'll miss ya "cool jerk". Shannie: We have to do the night run again, I think you're crazier than Leen. Julay: Poking the a-head, pillow fight? Good luck with soccer -you're amazing! George: Birthday buddy! Gappage, you're such a nice kid, always stay five. Jenny: Bun-nay, JV basketball was the best. Stumpy: Yup, I'm a freak, but I'll always be taller. Be Fri: Can't Hardly Wait, juith boxth ... apple-grape, I'll strive to be more original. To the XC girls: Manuel and Ninny, you guys are the best! Jill: I'll miss always having you around to talk to. Don't have too much fun without me!

Time has gone by so fast that it's hard to believe that I'm now a senior. I can remember freshmen year saying "I can't wait till I'm a senior," and now it's here. People always say how fun your four years of high school will be and looking back at all that has happened, they were right, but you can't get through it without some good times and a little help. MOM+DAD: thanks for always being there and for all the support you gave me and lessons that you taught me. KB: LCC J. Couga' Cart-man and other golf characters. CC: Felix impersonations; chem, class-making "things"; THE IDIOT+ the Jerk; "it's not mine!" TF: Baseball-badminton; "it's only 9:30." EG: No more AEC, Fish Market T-shirt gang; moon man; fish evolution. PG: Teacher+dark room+suspension, cheap!; Junior X theme scrabble, JP: "Are you ok?"; old man on the bike. MP: "BEEP BEEP" -lady holds up pants; Sprinkler baseball; Boston Tea Party. MR: Thanks for all the fun times and memories. BR: COMP SCI our project still was the best. Christie: Good luck in school and stay out of trouble. Brian: Be good! Coach Cav. and coaches: Thanks for two good seasons and good luck in the future. Good luck to the class of 2001!

"No love nor friendship can cross the path of our destiny without leaving some mark on it forever." First, I'd like to thank God for everything that He's done for me. Thank you Mom and Dad; it's been great growing up with such caring people. Tony, you're one of the best things to ever happen to me. I'm so glad you're my friend and sweetheart. Sara, you've got three years to go, make the best of it. I'm sure people will enjoy hearing your "touch it" story until you graduate. Julie, Melissa, and family: You're all the best! The Agawam Crew: I've had so much fun with you guys! Even though we were freaks in junior high, we still had a blast! Katie, Mary, Idara, Jocelyn, Sendy: You're all great friends. Always remember Sailor Moon. The ELHS Drama Club: You are awesome! I had such a good time. You are all very talented people. Also, thank you to all my teachers; you've been a big help. Mrs. McCormick, I've loved college so much! It was a great opportunity. Good luck to everyone!

I guess there is no way I can believe that four years of my life have just passed by. I can still remember the first day I walked into this school as a short freshman with no idea where I was going. I remember looking almost directly up at all of the seniors thinking to myself, would I ever be that big? Well, now that four years have gone by, I have had the opportunity to be the big person in school, yet with that come thoughts of college. I really miss walking the hallways with my friends, especially Anthony Laffan, with whom I talked and laughed through both good and bad days. I will never forget the two wonderful years on the golf team. I want to thank Mr. Courtney and Mr. Porowski for letting me be part of something so special. I would also like to extend a personal thanks to Yvonne Keniston with whom I went to my first dance - the Junior Semi. Yvonne, you made my junior year what it was, and I will never forget you and what your being my date meant to me. Finally, I wish to thank all of my teachers. I could never have had the success in school that I had without your help, and there will always be a special spot in my memory for all of you. It is hard to leave this wonderful place, but I know I will have the same great experiences in college, and I wish good luck to all the seniors and other students. I'll be a SPARTAN forever, and I'm very proud of that!

Life moves pretty fast, if you don't stop and look around once in a while you could miss it. -Ferris Bueller. The past 4 years have been the fastest, but best years of my life. So many things have happened that have made an impact. First, to my family: Mom + Dad: What can I say, both of you have always been there for me, whether it was a needed hug or a helping hand, you were always right beside me. Chris: My Big Brother, we haven't always gotten along, but I will always look up to you. Nanny-cake so delicious. Sunday night dinners, especially with your meatloaf, Grandma. Now I know how to make it myself, thanks. I love you all. To my friends; Kathleen: We are now done and on to more exciting things. Through the years we've gotten so close. Our late night talks were amusing, and of course the Cape. Kiddo: You're the best, it seems like we've been friends forever. Whenever I need to talk, I'll know who to call. Never forget the BIRDIE. Lindsay: Summer pool parties at the Stanislaw's. Your place was the best for hangouts. Jenn: So many fun times together, we'll always be known as the Jen's. Thanks a bunch. To everyone else, RC,SH,JS,JM,MR,GR,CT,AS, HV,SM,TB,MR.: You guys are the best, we'll always be together. Good luck next year, believe me it will go by so fast. Yearbook: Those late nights were interesting. To the Class of 2001, good luck with everything you do.

When writing this message I wasn't really sure on what to say, that's why on one of my rare occasions, I had asked my mother to help me. She gave me an idea, a buzzword method. One word that sums up my four years in this school, so I picked victory. In a sense, in these four years, I put myself through hell and have suffered the loss of close people in my family. At first my attitude was that I have lost great and gained little. But now that I have been through the storm, I can say that I have gained more than what I have lost. My self-confidence, belonging, and to really get a sense of who I am. By this, but gaining this much is more than I asked for. And that is my greatest victory. Now in the immortal words of Mr. G, "lets get to today's business." First, I would like to thank my mom and dad and the support of my family. "Now number next" I would like to thank Mrs. Jackson, Mr. Bazyk, Mrs. McCormick, my football and wrestling coaches, the office staff, and Mrs. Celletti. To my friends and foes: Save the best for last, too. Mr. Moriarty RIP, to my brother Eddie, Aunt Carol, Big Grandma, and to Mr. A back in Duggan: This is our victory and you are the people I share it with. I did it ya'll. Peace, I am out 21001000

(RD,PJ,BT,OTL,AL,TP,RT,EG, and the rest-thanks for making high school fun, I will miss you guys!) Also, a big thanks goes out to my family for getting me to school on time (sorry I woke up late so many times!), and for the Nova (couldn't have done it without you! Anna, keep your schoolwork up!) Thanks to all my teachers, especially Mr. Carey and both G's: I learned a lot and the classes were entertaining. Shout outs to the preceding seniors-it was fun while you were still around! Volleyball: don't worry guys, no matter how well we do this year, you will definitely win Western Mass, just give it 2 more years!

There is only one factor that matters when it comes to reaching and defending the top step on the school social ladder — class. No, we don't mean personal integrity or polished behavior. It's all about your graduating class, and if your class's number isn't at the top of the list, neither are you. You can be the smartest kid around, the best athlete, the dude with the hottest car, or throw parties that get everybody grounded for months, but unless you're a senior you ain't got jack, Jack! It only took a couple of short stretches in the dungeon that was Birchland for us to get to the top — but let's face it, who wants to be the master of the middle school sandbox? When we finally got to ELHS we expected to be at the bottom of the heap, and any psychologist will tell you one of the best ways to become a victim is to act like one. Soon enough we were suffering the taunts of our elders as we struggled mightily under the burden of our overfilled backpacks ("I don't know if I can find my locker again so I carry everything."). We thought we could take the elevator to the top. And then, mercifully, it was over. The only good thing about sophomore year was that there was finally someone else beneath us to attract some of the abuse. And so it went, even into our junior year, when most of us were still too young to drive, too self conscious not to wear Abercrombie (or pants baggy enough for a family of four to live in), and definitely too many credits away from graduation to get out of here in June. Someday, some way, we've got to take back this school from the seniors. It'll take all of us underclassmen, working together, to bring them down, but it'll be worth it. We'll knock those smug looks off their faces. And then beg them to take us with them to college.

"Who'll step up?" is a phrase heard often these days in the world of sports. As a rallying cry, a personal challenge, "Who'll step up?" is a useful coach's tool, a way of driving players to do more than they might expect of themselves. Unfortunately, the phrase is suffering from overuse. We hear of running backs "stepping up", goalies "stepping up", entire front lines "stepping up" - for crying out loud, the next thing you know, managers and score-keepers will be stepping up! The bottom line is, of course, that when a player is already playing to the best of his or her abilities, there's no room left to step up. You can't do any more than your best. Better to return the phrase to its original usage, when it was employed to describe those early season practices, when coaches and fans alike would wonder who would fill the void created by last year's departed seniors- which freshman or JV players would step up?

Although injured early in the season, Tim left a big impact on the team recording over 700 yards in only four games.

One word comes to mind when thinking about the Spartans' 2000 season: Efficient. With two backs posting 1000+ yards rushing- Senior Paul Halon and Junior Mike Farrell- and a passing game that was nearly unmatched by anyone in the Suburban League, the Spartans had one of the top offenses in Western Massachusetts. Led by captains Scott Honecker, Tim DiClementi, and Andrew Robar, the team's success this year can be credited to the hard work they exhibited throughout the campaign, starting with a week in the trenches of Camp Beckett. Six a.m. runs and exhausting heat brought the team together and readied them for one of the team's best starts in recent history, recording five straight victories. The twelve seniors were the first to have been coached by Coach Caverly for four years. After posting 4-7, 4-7, and 3-8 records, this year's 6-5 mark is a sure sign that this program is once again moving forward.

The Lady Spartans came into their 2000 season hoping to defend their WMASS Championship, but in their hearts they wanted more. It was an unspoken goal throughout the season to make a run for their first state championship. Senior Captains Erin Duffy and Jess Pieciul anchored a solid defense completed by senior Rosie Lalli, sophomores Christiana Racicot, Megan Kravitz, and Emily Johnson, as well as All-State keeper Julie Randall, which held their opponents to 14 shutouts during the season. The Spartan midfield was controlled by All-State sophomore Jenny Maurer and Megan DeAngelo. Erinne Goodwin and Brittany Gadsby kept the team composed during some of their hard-fought wins. Caitlin D'Amario and Karen Serafin consistently sparked the offensive line. Seniors Jenn McCormack, Chelsea Rusico and Mary Risley used their experience to lead the Spartans to their first state title, a 1-0 victory over powerhouse Duxbury. A disappointing 1-3-1 start did not prevent the Spartans from being ranked 25th in the nation, finishing off 19-3-1. With nine returning starters for the 2001 season, the future of ELHS soccer looks promising. Good Luck!!

MVP and senior Shannon Brennan showed her determination by pioneering the team's spandex movement.

The 2000 Girls' Cross Country team wasn't one to mess with. Coming off of a successful season last year, the girls were out for blood. They started the year off on the right foot by posting wins against Chicopee and Agawam. Their record continued to improve with a victory over rival Longmeadow after several decades of defeats. Shannon Brennan led the team as MVP for the second year in a row but was closely pursued by a newcomer Kathleen Wicks. Julia Maki stepped up this year to provide a well-needed link between the top two runners and the rest of the top five. Seniors Lindsay Stanislau and Sarah Bisson always maintained their steady positions and boosted the team in scoring. The Spartans finished the season with an impressive 13-3 record. When it came time for PVIAC and Western Mass, the team was riddled by an onslaught of injuries, yet were still able to do fairly well. Next season the team is looking to improve on this year's record. Freshman, Jen Superson started out this season on top, but was handicapped by an injury. She, as well as Julia Maki, Erin Ripston, Tanya Grassetti, and Cara Tighe should more than make up for the loss of the four departing seniors. The girls' spirit and determination should make them tough contenders for years to come.

Led by Captains Jay Poole, Chris Rowley, Ryan Corbett, and Jeff Caron, the season began impressively with dominating wins over Chicopee, Agawam and Central. The ball continued rolling, as the Spartans claimed their first victory in a decade over rival Longmeadow. Juniors Caron, Corbett, Rowley, George Rodriguez, and Tim Brown composed a formidable top five to lead the Spartans to first place out of 45 teams at the Wickham Park Invitational Meet. Poole, Junior Andrew Stinger, and Sophomore Dave Avezzie put up impressive times to round-out the top eight. The boys were dealt their only real disappointment of the season against Cathedral, coming within one point of the division title. After that, there was no stopping the boys as they finished the season with wins in the rest of their meets, a 14-2 record, a 6th place finish at the PVIAC Individual meet, and a 4th place finish in Western Mass. All-State selection Jeremy Lantaigne, aka "White Knight", uses his skills, as well as his useless knowledge, to baffle the opposition.

This year's East Longmeadow Spartan soccer team showed Division I that they are a team to be reckoned with. The team finished as Division II state finalists and ended their regular season with a record of 12-2-4. It was the first time since 1993 that the boys' soccer program had played a Division I schedule. The Spartans handily defeated Wahconah, Northampton, and Mount Greylock advancing to the state competition. This gave the team their fourth consecutive WMass crown. Though the Spartans fought hard, they were defeated in a hard-fought game against Woburn. There was an impressive core of senior leadership headed by Jeremy Lantaigne (All State), Scott Craven (All WMass), and Jimmy Aleks. Other seniors providing a spark for the team were Ryan McCarthy and Tony Berardi. The team also had tremendously talented juniors to help them along the way. Brent Bousquet (All WMass) and Nick Zguro (All State), led the team up front, while Luke Jaroszewicz (All State) controlled the midfield. The defense was led by Steve Paige (All WMass), Mike Ferris, and Ben Lantaigne. Tim Larocca, Andre DeNardo, and Kevin Barthelmes became key underclass players throughout the season. This year's boys' team proved to Western Mass and the state that our program is something to fear in the future. The team has much to be proud of by representing East Longmeadow with pride, honor, and respect.

The girls' volleyball team made another step towards becoming the best in WMASS. The core of 6 returning starters led the team to a 11-6 record. Their only losses were against WMASS finalist Minnechaug and Ludlow, and a split with last year's defending champions, Amherst. They were seeded 4th in the tournament, and made it to the semifinals. Strong leadership came from Amy Livingstone and Kim Proulx, who have been in the program for 4 years. Ashley Pelzek and Sara Halpin sparked the middle hitting of the offense throughout the season. The strong setting of two-time MVP Megan Paulette proved itself again and again against tough teams. Hannah Deane stepped up big for the Spartans this season and filled out the starting rotation. One of the biggest surprises was the talent of freshman Erin Hundley who showed much promise for the team in the future. The combined strength of these players earned them a 3rd place finish in the strongest league in WMASS.

Lying down on the job: Katie and Lauren catch a little shut-eye.

The 2000-2001 ELHS cheerleading squad had a fun and eventful year. The head coach was Susan Reynolds and assistant coach from Springfield College was Angela Licciardello. Seniors and captains this year were Mandy Bosworth, Christina Fiore, and Sarah Manley. In August, the squad attended a UCA (Universal Cheerleading Association) camp at UMass Amherst. The squad qualified to cheer at the Citrus Bowl in Florida, but they did not attend. Senior Sarah Manley and Junior Katie Reynolds were named UCA All-Stars and went to London, England. There they performed in the New Year's Day Parade with many other cheerleaders from around the country. The EL cheerleaders participated in a show held at Six Flags New England on April 21st. The girls also performed in Spartanum this year. Fundraisers included a car wash, lollipop sale, and a kids' hall at the Homegrown Festival.

What happened here? Spartan Cheerleaders show off a different side.

Heads up! Karen blasts a drive downfield.

Oh Captain, my Captain! Aimee's toughness made her the backbone of the defensive line.

Driving at night can be dangerous — if you step in front of Lindsay Bertrand, that is.

Want a side of Stanislaw with that? Jill wards off defender.

Having lost twelve seniors to graduation, Coach Lussier and the Spartan field hockey team looked to retool as the fall season began. Co-captains and co-MVP's, Aimee Levesque and Missy Rudzinski brought along the troops determinedly, and despite a frustrating 0-4-2 start, kept the girls focused on qualifying for postseason play. Kara Gareffi was the lone senior on the offensive line, good news when you consider that Bridget Luchini, Sarah Brega, and Stef Nannen will all be back next year as an experienced and potent unit. In the midfield Kristen Gonsalves, Julia Metzidakis, and Karen Mulak saw the majority of the action and they, too, will return in September, as will solid defender Meghann Robertson. Five first-year varsity players were also important contributors to this team: Amanda Tarczynski, Stella Quatrano, Jill Grassetti, Janessa Weinberg, and Emily Gralia, each one performing well while still learning the game. The team came together impressively as the campaign unfolded, and a midseason 6-2-1 streak brought them to within one game of the playoffs.

Unfortunately, a loss to perennial powerhouse Southwick ended that dream, but for the strong core that returns next fall, this season, in particular, shows that there is always a reason for hope.

Dominating the center position, Anthony Disa adds some crucial height to the Spartan line-up.

The Spartan basketball team looked challenge in the face and dove head-first into its most hard-working season to date. After the loss of nine seniors and a move into the more competitive Valley Wheel, the season was going to be far from easy. The Spartans never gave up, and struggled to finish with a 5-15 record. Tri-captains Anthony Disa, Ryan Corbett and Casey Butler provided crucial experience and leadership. Seniors Phil Giguere and Matt Perkins played an important role on the court, with fellow Senior Brandon Harris coming on full force at the end of the season. Butler, Corbett, Sean Hundley, Johnny Montefusco and Mike Hutchinson, all juniors, should provide a solid nucleus for next season. Excellent effort was put forth by sophomores Steve Lesukoski and Russ Martin, who will be called upon next year. Freshman Matt Brennan also logged some experience on the V-squad. Look out for these guys next year!

MVP John Weaver shows what it takes to earn two six finishes at WMass.

Coming off last year's unexpectedly impressive season, the Spartan boys weren't sure what to expect this winter. With only ten swimmers on the squad, they knew they didn't have the depth of years past, and that almost all the meets would be too close to call. The first test came early against West Springfield, a nail-biter clinched by the Spartans' medley relay unit. Minnechaug was next. Taking the medley proved vital, as did Coach Gonsalves' brilliant change in the 200 free relay. However, the key to this win (and several other meets) was diver David Flahive's surprising 4 points. The Spartans later gained more respect when they knocked off powerhouse Amherst. Boasting an 8-0 record they sat atop the A Division. Senior captains Mike Bareiss (50, 100 free) and Kevin Burke (500 free) led the team. Charles Miller (100 breast) and Dan Warren (free) added important depth. Juniors Tim Brown (100 back, 200 IM) and Matt McGrath (50 free, 100 fly) played large roles on the team, while Jeff Caron (500 free) was always dependable. Freshman John Weaver (200 free, 100 breast, 500 free) was the team MVP, and classmates Nick Waterhouse (100 breast, 200 IM) and David Flahive (100 breast, diving) made invaluable point contributions. The team finished 9th in WMass and nine Spartans qualified in individual events.

Get your head up! Dan Dickson barrels through center ice.

The hockey team entered this year's season with high hopes and expectations, fueled by a strong corps of returning players. With coach Bousquet returning for his second term as head coach after last year's 11-7-2 campaign, the Spartans hoped to dominate the ice with physical play, strong defense, and a menacing offense. Without a doubt, though, the team's true strength lay in the amazing work ethic of each player. The physical aspect of the game was headed by senior winger, Matt Authier (asst. capt.), with solid reinforcement from blue-liners Mike Sousa, Chris Rowley, Alex Grisaru, and Kyle Bousquet. Every successful team has a sniper, and Brent Bousquet (capt.) more than adequately filled that role with 20 goals and 17 assists to lead the team in points and notch up his 100th varsity career point. Mike Shikoluk remained solid in the net throughout the season, with support from seniors Matt Breton (asst. capt.), Dan Dickson (asst. capt.), and Brian Milbier. Also receiving quality time on the ice were sophomores Brett Hawley, and Chris Mastrangelo. Although the Spartans fell short of the playoffs this season, the potential in underclassmen Matt Levellie, Steve Hudyka, and James Marchese is making the future look bright. With such strong determination, and their immeasurable heart, the East Longmeadow High School hockey team will prove a team to watch in years to come.

This year the Spartan "Bad Boys" faced a challenge unseen in previous seasons. With the reintroduction of the Valley Wheel division, the team was looking at a schedule much tougher than any since the glory days of Coach Mazz. Defying the prognostications of both the newspapers and most Western Mass wrestling fans, this year's team came up big, becoming the first Valley Wheel champions. In addition to their posting a 11-3 record and finishing first at the Cathedral Dual Meet Tournament, many of the team's individuals prospered in solo competition as well. Senior co-captain and two-time MVP Jeff Bouyea (119) placed 3rd in Western Mass and 6th at States, and senior Andrew Robar (215) became the third Div. 1 Western Mass finalist in the school's history. Seniors Jeff Temkin (171), co-captain Scott Honecker (145), Junior Ben Lantaigne (160), and sophomore Brian Chapman (152) were also Western Mass place finishers this year for the Spartans.

Drew Christensen made remarkable improvements this year and will be unstoppable as a senior.

Though the Spartan girls' ski team returned last year's two most valuable performers, captain Mary Risley and Jaime McCauley, the squad struggled through their season. Gradually, though, inexperience began to melt away as newcomers Hannah Deane, Gina Piacanico, Karen Serafin, Jackie Moleski, Rachel Jacobson, and Cristina Munk learned their way through the gates and down the hill. Mary and Jaime earned top-ten finishes in meet after meet and proceeded to the State Championships. Jaime broke the school record in the Slalom and finished in the top 25 in the State. On the boy's team, captains Tom Fitzgerald and Erik Hart led the team to a record-setting victory in the season's first meet, a day on which the Spartans also came in first in their division. On the same night, Alastair Cowleson and Pat Duplessis broke the school record for Giant Slalom. Tom, Alastair, and Pat each earned seeded bids in the WMASS Championships with Duplessis and Cowieson advancing to the State Championships. Chris Ciocca, Ryan Lennon, Matt Baran and Drew Christensen were solid performers who showed consistent effort throughout the winter.

This year the lady Spartans took a huge step and moved out of the Valley South League. Playing harder teams and trying to keep up with last year's record was tough, but the girls stuck it out and ended up with a 12-8 slate, only one more loss than the previous year. The highlight of the year was an 82-56 thrashing of Cathedral in the next-to-last game of the regular season. The Spartans entered the postseason as the ninth seed, where they won a double-overtime thriller over Chicopee Comp. Unfortunately their next game didn't have as happy an outcome as the girls lost a hard-fought battle to arch rival Longmeadow. Throughout the year the Spartans relied on their 5 starters: sophomore Jenny Maurer, senior Erin Duffy, senior Jess Pieciul, junior Ashley Pelzek, and sophomore Lizzy Ryan. With great rebounding by Jess and Cara Tigue, light-out shooting by Ashley, and all-out hustle by Jenny Maurer, this team has the potential to be unstoppable next winter.

This is the exact moment when Sarah finds out what's really in the school's pool water.

The Spartan girls swim team seems to get better and better every year. The record for the past three years currently stands at an impressive 35-0. The closest meet this year was a victory over Minnechaug by 28 points. The twelve Spartans who earned their way to the WMass meet also qualified for states, all placing twelfth or better. Christine Myksin, this year's team MVP, collected two first-place finishes in the 50 and 100 freestyle. Erika Gregory won the 500 free and placed second in the 200. Heather Superson, Kristen Gonsalves and Jen Superson each swam the IM and another individual event. Sarah Jarry and Aimee Levesque helped gather valuable team points in the breaststroke, while KC Conz did likewise in the backstroke. Along with all these swimmers, two divers flipped, twisted, and splashed (barely) their way to Western Mass. Tyler Tyler, who now holds the school record with a score of 214.35, placed second, and Andria Titko placed 11th. The Spartan ladies won Western Mass by a wide margin, their closest competitors trailed by 99 points, but finished sixth at states. If the girls can win their first six meets next winter, they'll break the all-time school record of forty straight victories. Good luck girls.

Congratulations Mary!!

Like the carnation you hold in this kindergarten graduation picture, you are beautiful in so many ways. Your strength of character, your sense of humor, your graciousness, your love and concern for others will serve you well in the years ahead. Mary, thank you for the fun and happiness you bring to all of us. We are proud of the person you are and your many accomplishments. And, we know Kate is proud of you as well. Keep that smile, keep that laugh! You've been the sun, the moon, and the stars for us. Keep on shining! Dare we say it one more time? We love you very much, Mom & Dwight, Dad & Alex

Oh the ties that bind mothers and daughters together! And that knots in the ties! Sometimes our fingers meet, as we try to untangle the cats-cradle they make. Untwist one string and we twist another, who's fault is it? Nobody's fault. The ties are there. It is our nature to knot, our nature to struggle with them. And often our fingers touch. It seems like yesterday that you were in your yellow dress picking the daffodils. We have guided you and watched you develop into a beautiful, compassionate, young woman. Jocelyn, continue with determination to follow your dreams and remember we love you.

Mom, Dad and Jacquelyn

We're so very proud of you. May life bring you the love and happiness that you have brought to us. Continue being yourself and you will always do well.

Love,
Mom and Dad

Dear David,
It's been a long road but you've made it! We are so very proud of you and all that you have accomplished. We wish you the best in your career.

Love,
Mom and Dad

Shannon-Our little "Buttercup". You've become a beautiful young woman. It's hard to believe you are graduating. It seems like yesterday Dad was walking you on the ceiling. You rise to the top in all that you do, and are a ray of sunshine in our lives. We feel blessed to have a lovely, caring, and thoughtful daughter. You bring joy to everyone. We are proud of your accomplishments. Keep smiling. Keep running, We love you Shannie!

Mom, Dad, Eric, Adam, Julie, and Tom
 "There are no Impossible dream. And remember God has promised to glve His children the desires of their heart." -Glenna Salsbury

Congratulations Jen!!

We are so proud of all you have accomplished! May you always have that bright, cheery smile and that caring heart for your family and friends. You mean so much to all of us! We wish you luck, happiness and success as you begin your college years. May your future be as bright and happy as you have made our lives. We couldn't be happier or prouder!

With all our love-Mom, Dad and Chris

Jules,

You are the light of our lives. We are so proud of you. You are a very special girl. Keep looking up and may all your dreams come true. We love you.

Love-Mom and Dad

To our SUPER sister, Kathleen-Congratulations! We're so proud of you!
 May all of your dreams come true.
 Love-Jeffrey & Robert (Fuzz)

Congratulations SPECIAL GIRL!! What joy you have brought to our lives. We have been so proud of you as we have watched you grow into a beautiful girl. Your confidence and determination will help you succeed as you face life's challenges. Never forget what is important: Love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, and self-control. We will always love, cherish and wish the very best for you.

Love, Mom, Dad, & Ian

CONGRATULATIONS LINDSEY!

We want to thank you for all the happy memories you have given us throughout the years: Cape Cod, Chinese nights, trips to the bike trail, Sunday rides, ice cream, and your many sleepovers with your friends. You grew up to be a beautiful and sensitive young lady. You accept people for who they are and what they believe in. Never change and keep smiling. Good luck in everything you set out to do. We also would like to congratulate your friends and the Class of 2001!
Love Always, Mom & Dad

Lindsey,
You are a great big sister (even though I am bigger, lol). We've been close since we were little. Always laughing and playing, having our late night sleepovers with our friends. I will always be there for you. Love,
Mike (alias- Mick)

Congratulations Noah!

Watching you grow up to be who you are today has been the most precious gift we could have asked for. We wish for you everything you wish for yourself and more. Always be grateful for who you are and what you have. Strive to always do your best.

Thank you for being the son you have been. Our love forever, Mom, Dad, Ronnie, & Grandma

Congratulations Courtney! Cute As A Button

To our infant, toddler, little girl, adolescent, teen, we've watched you grow for 18 years from first step to first home run and now to independence and the rest of your life. We're proud of the person you've become and can't wait to see the person you will be ... and none of us will ever forget the memories we've shared. CA, CO, CT, DC, FL, GA, HI, IL, ME, MD, MA, NH, NJ, NC, PA, RI, SC, TX, VT, VA, MX - Free the HN Eleven - Hurricanes, Hot Shots, Spartans. You will always be our MVP.

*Love,
Mom, Dad, & Erik*

Ant,

It seems like I woke up one morning and it was time for you to go to school. Those first few years I thought you were going to be an elementary school drop out. But boy have things changed. You have become our Alex P. Keaton/John Kennedy Jr. all in one, and we couldn't be prouder. You have evolved into an outstanding young man. Don't let anyone tell you that you can't make your dreams come true, because Toad, you have proved that if you set your mind to it, you can do anything. Reach for the stars and don't settle for less.

Love, Mom, Dad, and Summy

From your first day of school to your last day, we've always been so proud of what you've been able to accomplish. Continue to believe in yourself and your abilities, it's brought you to where you are now. Never give up your dreams, and you know if you need us, we'll be here. Remember: Let them know you were there ... and as big as twelve skies.

Brian Joseph Milbier

Brian,
 Congratulations! This is only the beginning. Work hard (do your homework) and success can be yours!
 Love Always!
 Dad, Mom, Colleen and Kevin

Don't Quit

When things go wrong,
 as they sometimes will,
 When the road you're trudging
 seems all up hill,
 When the funds are low,
 and the debts are high,
 And you want to smile,
 but you have to sigh,
 When care is pressing
 you down a bit
 Rest if you must,
 but don't you quit
 Success is failure
 turned inside out.
 The silver tint
 of the clouds of doubt.
 And you never can tell how close you are
 It may be near
 when it seems so far.
 So stick to the fight
 when you're hardest hit,
 It's when things seem worst,
 that you must not quit.

Caitlin

Things we'll never forget ... Projects with glitter and glue EVERYWHERE ... "I'll clean up later- it's due tomorrow!" In school with Scott for the first time ... "I'm a freshman hanging out with all the seniors. Scott hates that!" Skipping school to get your learner's permit ... "I have to get it on my birthday- I think it's a RULE!! Can I drive the pink Mustang?" And you should never forget ... When you were 3 weeks old your doctors told us you might never walk or talk. In a way they were right ... you didn't walk or talk, you sang and danced your way through life. We love you. You are our gift, our miracle, and we couldn't be prouder of the person you've become.

Love,
 Mom, Dad, and Scott

My Dearest Idara,
 Congratulations! Your name means "Joy" and you have been a source of great joy in our life. We are very proud of you and know that with the help of God you will continue to succeed as you embrace the future. We love you more than words can express and will always be there for you.
 The Lord is with you always. Trust in him and follow your heart.
 Love,
 Mom, Dad, Inyang, and Azian

Caitlin,

This graduation thing, it's a big milestone, and another snapshot you can add to your lifetime of memories. Of all the snapshots of my life that I can recall, I'd bet you'd be surprised to see how many times your face appears. So keep on smiling and make every moment count.

Congratulations Lauren & Phil

Years of friendship, years of love, years of growing up side by side. Friendship is a gift from God, make it last a lifetime. You have all you need to succeed - courage, faith in God, and the love of your families. Phil, we couldn't ask for a finer son. We are so proud of you. Lauren, you are like a daughter to us, thanks for sharing your life with us!

All our love,

Andrew-

Congratulations! We are proud of the outstanding young man you have become and we are confident that this is just the beginning of a happy and successful life. The sky is the limit for you.

As you head off to school next fall, we hope that you find inspiration and motivation in your chosen career and will be a leader in your profession as you have been both on and off the football field. Competition doesn't end at the buzzer of your last game, but is a part of life. The motto of the Culinary Institute is "Preparation is Everything." You have shown that you are prepared, and that you have what it takes to be successful in the competition of life.

Success isn't measured only by career advancement, but also in family and friendships. You are fortunate to have a loving extended family including grandparents, aunts and uncles, cousins, and your brother all close by and there when you need them. You have also surrounded yourself with a group of friends who are truly good young people all capable of great futures. (Including one who showed wisdom beyond his years and registered as a Republican.) Staying close to your family and friends is an equal measure of success.

You're just getting started Ang, you've got a long road ahead of you. So, in the words of Coach Cav, "Crank up the diesel," and try not to hit any more trees along the way.

Love, Mom and Dad

P.S. To Coach Caverly and the entire coaching staff of the mighty Spartans football team: Thank you for providing leadership with class, and showing that focus, dedication and hard work pays off. The community is better off because of the example you provide. Good Luck in the future.

Eric,

I am very proud of you, not just for the big accomplishments like winning a trophy at a karate tournament or coming in first place for EL in the hurdles, but also for things that showed me strength of character and gave me a preview of the man you are becoming.

You have been an angel in disguise for elderly ladies, crying preschoolers, children with special needs and lonely animals.

I have written a dozen drafts of this ad trying to find a way to tell the world of the great things you have done, in 120 words or so. Impossible.

The childhood years have not been easy for you, but we had a lot of laughter as well as tears. Continue to "Kick Butt". I love you, Mom.

scious integrity.

Your family will always love you.

Mom, Dad, Jill and Johnny

Dan and John,

It seems like only yesterday we were putting you on the bus for your first day of school. Now, 12 years later, you're graduating. You both must know how much joy you've brought us. Watching soccer and hockey games and golf matches were great entertainment. We've watched you grow into great young men who make us proud to say, "They're our sons." No matter where you go or what you do, remember to be happy and we'll always be there for you.

From Rainbows, Bebe and Lala, from ringlets, gymnastics and "Thriller," from Florida with "My Little Pony" stickers, from skunks at backyard sleepovers, and with music, always music ... to this beautiful, intelligent, and talented young woman that you are now ... you have made all these years wonderful because we shared them with you. We love you and are so very proud of you.

With love,
Mom and Dad

Congratulations Ryan!

You've worked hard and we're proud of all you have accomplished. Have fun, keep smiling and believe in yourself.

Love,
Mom, Dad, Megan, and Maura

Olga,

Your graduation is in some way an ending, but in more ways, this is only a beginning. We are overjoyed for you because you spread your wings and flew. Congratulations!

Love,
Mom, Dad, and Mikhael

Congratulations Matt!

We're so proud of you. You've brought so much joy, humor, and excitement into our lives. Being the youngest made you very special to our family, although it probably wasn't easy always having "three mothers" telling you what to do and not to do. You may not always choose the easy path, but through determination and perseverance, you'll find a way. You possess the tools for future success and we look forward to sharing it with you. Thanks for adding spice to our lives.

Love,
Mom, Dad, Heather, Erica, and Piper

Dear Jer, Can't believe high school graduation is here! Where did the time go? We're all very proud of you. You've grown into a wonderful person, in everyone's eyes. Always remember: "DESIRE" Where you want to be, "DETERMINATION" How you get to where you want to be. P.S. I'll try (?) not to cry at your graduation, I promise, Mom. May all your dreams come true. Much love, Dad, Mom, Beno, & T

Judge,
Thirteen years ago you began a journey. Over those years we watched you grow into the individual you are, and not only have you been a great son and brother, but you have brought humor to our lives. Now that you are at the start of an exciting journey, may you experience all life has to offer.
Love,
Mom, Dad, Christie, and Brian

Angela,
Where did the last seventeen years go? It seems like yesterday we were best of friends, playing blocks, riding bikes, and most of all enjoying each other's company. We watched you grow up to be a beautiful, caring person with a heart of gold. Our only problem is every time we look at you we still see our little girl. That's why these last four years have been more of a challenge for us than for you. We're so very lucky to have you as our daughter and sister to Michael and Joey. Soar like the wind, follow your dreams, and most importantly be the person who matters to you. You will always be our Angel! Love, Mom, Dad, Michael, and Joey

Dear Lindsay,
Everyday of your life has been a joy for us. We have so much respect for all that you have accomplished. Remember that your dreams have no limits, work before play, and be true to yourself. Thank you for making our job seem easy. We cherish you.
Love,
Mom, Dad, Jillian, and Joe regrets, a purring cat by your side, lifelong friends, a passion for life,

and love ...
Mom and Dad

Erin,
You've done a great job throughout high school in everything you've done.
I've watched you succeed above and beyond what everyone expected of
you. I'm proud to be your big brother, and I'm proud when I get to tell everyone about all your amazing accomplishments. Congrats on graduating.
I'm sure you'll continue to make everyone proud throughout college and beyond.
Love,
Ryan

Kristy (Big Sis),
I am so proud of you! You made it through HS! I admire everything you do and have done. I am following in your footsteps. You have had a tremendous impact on my life and I don't know what I would do without you! You've had some pretty rough times and you pulled through it all. I am going to miss your smiling face so much it's not even funny. But we'll still have our good times, is it bigger than a bread box ... a jack---?! Or would you like some Hhham with the P-ork?
Lol. I love you to death. Love always, Karen

Dear Stella,

From the moment you were born, a star sparkled in the sky. You're a gentle kindred spirit, with intelligence, humor, honor and a heart as big as the world. Our hearts swell with pride. My prayer is that God watches over our child, for she has a tender heart. Se aga po, We love you! Mom, Dad and Annette

We are very proud of the person you have become. You have grown up so fast. Kind, thoughtful, sweet, sensitive, and caring, are a few words that describe you best. You have the determination and ambition to do, or be, anything you want. Don't ever be afraid to try. Life would be boring if we didn't take a few chances along the way. Our biggest wish for you is happiness. Thanks for being the wonderful person you are. We love you very much, Mom & Dad

Congratulations Charles

We molded part of your past. As you go out to face the world you will be responsible for molding part of our future. Memories are part of the ingredients that make up your character, cherish them: Meméré's cabinet full of gum, Mrs. Brodeur, Harriet, Grandma, Poppy and the "clothes pin" in Stowe. The summer of '97 @ the Cape with BYF, OM, Sparky & Cisco, all your obsessions from movies, Legos, your bike, and computers! Most of all, Stowe. Listen closely to your heart for your decisions are made from within. Try not to set your goals on money or material things. Remember, true success is only achieved when you can look at yourself in the mirror everyday, smile at the reflection and carry a warm feeling of happiness within you. Love, Mom and Dad

Jeff,
We have watched you grow into a handsome, loving and caring young man. You've made me proud in so many ways, with your strength, courage and character you have shown through all the adversities that have come your way. I know you will succeed in whatever career path you choose. Remember, the only limits you will have are the ones you put on yourself. Stand true to your beliefs.
All our love,
Mom, Grant, Nicole, and Natalia

Jeff,
Congratulations! You've made it. You have been the best older brother a sister could ask for. Growing up so close to you has meant the world to me. I always had a friend wherever we went, and you never minded your little sister tagging along. You've taught me so many lessons, and gave me so much support. You have been through a lot in the past two years, and you overcame it all. Thanks for showing me what it takes to succeed. Have fun in college, and always remember you can do anything you put your mind to. I love you Jeff,
Nicole

TO OUR FAVORITE CHARLIE BOY!

"This could be the last time, you will stand by my side/ I can feel my soul it's bleeding/ Will you fly with me this evening" ~ 3 Doors Down. Time flies by so fast. Who could ever guess that your little sis and some chick you met behind a pool would become your BBS Buds?! From cheesy 80's horror flicks and cruisin' in the "ghetto wagon" ("get your elbow off the wheel!") to tickle wars in the basement and Jimmy the sock monkey in your mouth. We always have a blast. Our Kahunaville chats and nights spent "bubblin' in the hot tub" always cheered us up. "Gee, it must be our MooMoo is a BaaBaa, Never forget the puddle jumping, towel slapping thunderstorm experience, the many "Wally Worlds" of Florida and your sacred hotel room safe. "Hey, why are you so feisty today? Did J.C. get lost again?!" We'll never forget your little fashion statements: from endless shades of copper hair, and your fine jewelry collection to showing off those sexy legs, we've always envied your style. Back-to-back Creed everyday, getting kind of scary. We'll miss you more than you'll ever know and promise to forever cherish these memories that we shared. Good luck as you move ahead and don't forget to recharge those phone cards. Oh, and one last bit of advice: Watch out for those college girls ... we hear they like ears! Kisses, Crystal and Carly (Charlie's Angels)

Anthony,
 You did it, and we never doubted that you would. You have been a blessing to this family and we are proud of the young man you have become. We are proud of the accomplishments you have made, and know you will achieve all of your goals and dreams.
 Remember we will always be there for you. Much luck on your inventions! All our love,
 Dad, Mom, and Marie

Congratulations Greg!
 We love you and are so proud of the young man you are. Your accomplishments in and out of school have always been well earned. Always keep your terrific sense of humor, it will serve you well in life.
 Love,
 Mom, Dad and Jennifer

Kim,
*Congratulations on your graduation. You've worked hard to achieve your goals and we are very proud of you. We wish you the best of luck in your future.
 May all your dreams be fulfilled.*
 Love always,
 Mom and Dad

Dear Kourtney,
 You have made Dan and me very proud of your accomplishments and your sincere dedication to achieve your goals. You know that we both will be by your side, loving and supporting you, now and always.
 With love,
 Mom and Dad

Our Valentine

We are so proud of you! Spread your wings and be all that you can be!
Remember you are in our hearts.
Love ya! Mom, Dad and the gang

Congratulations Matthew Breton!

In your heart, your son is precious and treasured. Together, we grew and nurtured through the years trying to find the right amount of independence for each new stage of your life, until finally, we had to learn to let you make your own path through life.

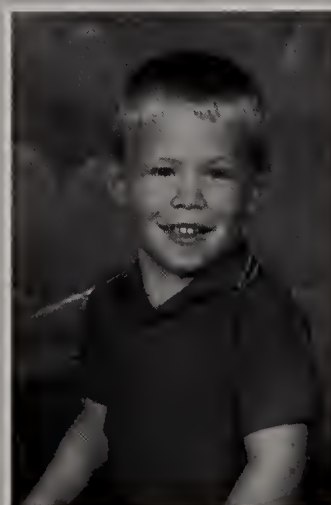

Matt, we are very proud of you and wish you much happiness and success.

Love Always: Mom, Dad & Kelly

Dear Lori: We are very proud of you and love you very much. Have confidence in yourself because you really can accomplish anything that you dare to dream.

Never give up! We will always be here for you.

Love, Mom and Dad

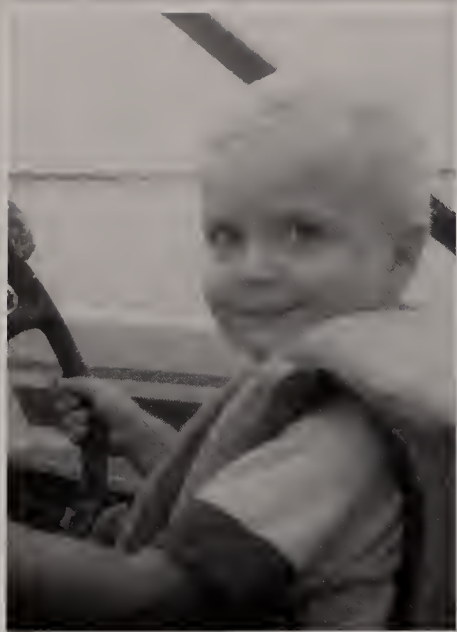

Matthew,
Words cannot express the love and pride your family has for you. The Lord has blessed you with many gifts you are yet to discover. Dad and I know your heart, and look forward to watching you as you continue to mature and make a place in this world. We will always be there for you, Matt. I will miss our long talks and Donald Duck. Don't let anyone steal your dream and remember the magic of believing. With love and faith, Mom & Dad.

You're the best brother a girl could ask for. I will miss you. Can I have your phone?

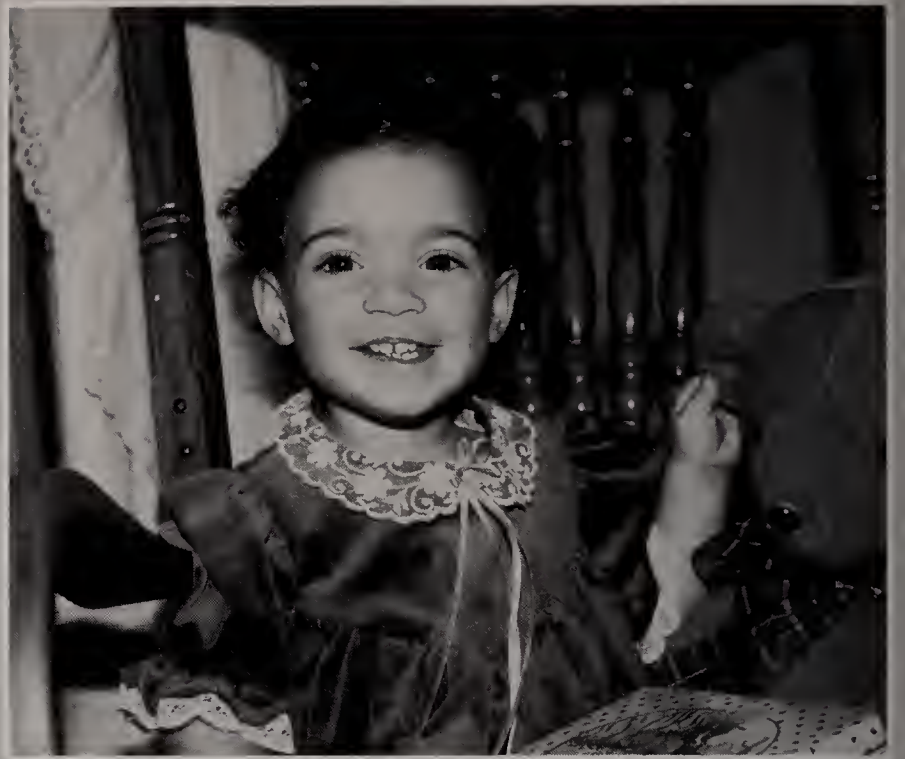

Love, Linnea

Congratulations Erik!

You have always had the "drive" to succeed in life, fighting hard to overcome many obstacles along the way. Your graduation marks the end of one chapter and the beginning of another. We couldn't be prouder and more excited for you!! You are a kind, honest and talented person. Your good work ethics, combined with your caring and generous nature will only spell success for your future. We will always be here for you. Good luck next year! We love you!!

Mom, Dad, Jeff, Kris and Barney too!

Congratulations Rosie!

You are the sun, the moon and the stars to us. The heart of our hearts. Remember to never live faster than your guardian angels can fly. "If you can dream it, you can make it so." We love you.

*Mom, Eric, Joey, Matt and Maren,
The Grandma's and Grandpa's*

CONGRATULATIONS BRIAN

You have reached one of your goals in life, tomorrow you will reach the highest, thanks to all your hard work and effort. You have done very well.

Our dear son, we are very proud and love you very much. We will always be there for you.

Love Mom and Dad

Donna, you've come a long way and have been through many hard times. I'm proud of you for staying strong. Your father will always be watching you! He will always love you! We love you dearly. Congratulations!

Love, Mom, Grandma and Family

Congratulations Aimee!

Obviously the middle child syndrome hasn't affected your ability to succeed. Keep smiling and working hard and your goals and dreams will be realized. Of course, a little help from your friends and family doesn't hurt.

Love, Mom, Dad, Nicole, and Renee

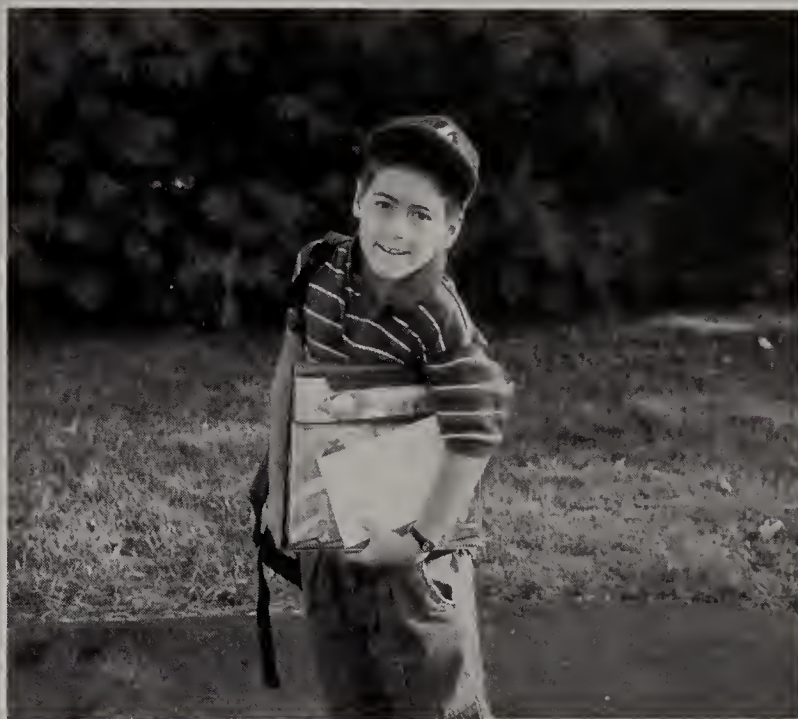

Continue to have courage and follow your dreams. Keep your goals in sight and take pride in your accomplishments. Good luck in the future. We are proud of you.

Love,
Mom, Dad, and Chris

Dear Joe,

It seems like only yesterday I was holding your little hand walking into nursery school - your journey was just starting. You were always such an amazing child, ++Joe, watching you grow and learn has been phenomenal. You always get it! You've always been a leader, a pioneer, a role model, a good sport, and most of all a good person. You've grown from a terrific teen into a man we're proud to have as a son and brother, and not just a brother, but a big brother - there's a difference. Your quiet confidence is inspiring, your work ethic is unmatched, combine this with the best sense of humor around - not to mention outstanding looks - and you can do anything you set out to do. Well, your hand is bigger now, and you don't need me to hold it anymore. So we'll let go, and you can continue your journey. There are such great things out there waiting for you Joe. We'll always be behind you. You're our hero.

We love you,
Mom, Dad, and Janie

Sweetie Pie,

You deserve a beautiful, happy, loving life. From the moment in which you came into our lives, you have brought us nothing but joy. And now, as you move on in life, remember that you will be thought of lovingly ... more than you know.

Love,
Mom and Dad

*Even though you're taller, stronger and wittier than I am it doesn't matter, because I'm still the oldest! The future is unpredictable but I will always be here for you and willing to help during hard times. We're both growing up but let's not grow apart. Never change who you are for anyone.
Love always and Forever,
Kim*

Cathleen,
Best wishes and good luck in the future. "You've come a long way baby"
Love, Nana and Poppy

Congratulations! You have ended one phase and are about to embark on the next. You have always wanted to be so independent. We have tried to support you, encourage you and love you unconditionally. Right now, you have a whole world of opportunities before you ... make the most of them. Remember to always be true to yourself and believe in your abilities.
We love you,
Mom and Dad

Sarah,
Well, here you go. This is where your life really begins. The last 17 years have simply been preparation for whatever life has in store for you. You have proven over and over again that you are a mature, responsible, bright and loving young woman. You have already experienced more in your life than most people ever will. But what is important is what you have learned from these experiences. They have shaped you into the person you are. Someone we are very proud of. We wish you as much joy and happiness in your life as you have brought to us in ours. And please, always remember ... "Living might mean taking chances, but they're worth taking, loving might be a mistake, but it's worth making. May you never take one single breath for granted, God forbid love ever leaves you empty handed. I hope you still feel small when you stand beside the ocean, whenever one door closes I hope one more opens. Promise me that you'll give faith a fighting chance, and if you get the choice to sit it out or dance ... I hope you dance." Congratulations and Good Luck S.P. We love you, Mom, Dad, Cory & Otis

*You have given us a lot of great memories from watching you play sports to your humorous antics. What lies ahead is all up to you. Just remember, nothing is impossible when you really want it. Go out there and live your dream. We love you and are proud of you!
Love always,
Mom & Dad*

Cat,
We have been "sisters" for 10 years. We have been through everything from summers on the Cape to St. Patty's Day in baskets to swim parties at my house. I love you and miss you.
Love your other sister,
Carrie

Cathleen,
Remember when it was so simple ... What happened?
Love, Addie

CONGRATULATIONS JENN!

Dear Jenn,

You have made us very happy and proud, watching you grow from a shy little girl to a mature young woman. We admire your determination, your intelligence and your thoughtfulness. Trust your instincts and follow your dreams! Remember, no matter how old you are, you'll always be our little girl.

With much love,
Mom & Dad

Jenn,

You've taught me a lot about life and you've taught me how to play soccer.

You've been my friend as well as my big sister.

Love,
Kerri

Jenn,

You've been a pain in the butt for as long as I can remember. I can't believe I'm actually going to miss you. Good luck in college and I hope you enjoy learning about FEET!

-Kevin

Antonietta,

Throughout the years you have brought us great joy and laughter. We are proud of you and your accomplishments, and wish you much luck in the future.

Love,

Mom, Dad, Carmela, Guiseppe, and Luigi

Congratulations Kerbear!

You did it! We are very proud of all you have accomplished and hope that you will continue to find success in everything you do. You have always had this great smile-remember to take it wherever you go!

Love,
Dad, Mom, and Tracy

Scott,

It's hard to believe eighteen years have passed so quickly. You wanted to grow up so fast and Mom and Dad wanted to slow the clock down. You have accomplished a lot in a short period of time. Family, friends, church, education, hobbies, and many sporting activities, have shaped your character.

Scott, life is full of challenges. You certainly gave Mom and Dad one of our greatest.

There will be many more challenges and opportunities in your future. You are smart, sensitive, intuitive, creative, humorous and a determined person. Life's choices are often difficult and complicated, but you possess all the qualities to accomplish your goals. Dream, explore and discover what life has to offer. Follow your heart.

We will always be there for you.

Congratulations on your 2001 ELHS graduation and best wishes in college!

Love, Mom, Dad & Laura

This year's Aegis stepped off on the same foot as it does every year. Seven editors and a seemingly eager staff of more than thirty students gathered at the introductory meeting and it appeared that we were ready for an impressive start. Coming off of a year of frequent frustration, we thought that the only direction this staff could possibly go was up. So we began our annual climb to the ultimate goal: compilation of a meaningful record of our high school career, enclosed in a mere 212 pages. Although our ascent began easily enough, it didn't take long for problems to arise. Trying to incorporate creative designs and new ideas within the book resulted in a bitter dispute with what seemed like the entire senior class. But while everyone was willing to step up and shoot down our ideas, the steps leading to Room 216 every-day after school remained vacant. The enthusiasm of our own staff also dwindled, soon after they realized how much hard work would be involved in the production. And so we reluctantly remembered our past yearbook experiences and resigned ourselves to the fact that we would be making this book alone. As we trudged our way up that worn staircase each day the load seemed to get heavier and heavier. Academics, college applications, work, sports, and various other obligations (not to mention the occasional dream of what a "normal" high school life might be like) bore down on our shoulders until our feet would barely carry us upstairs. For many, the stairs became too steep and the weight too heavy; even some of the editors' attendance dropped. It was evident to the remaining few that the responsibility and dedication of our colleagues turned out to be much less than we expected. And far less than we so truly needed.

At times it seemed as if we were chained to a broken escalator. Productivity steadily decreased as the frustration level remained on a steady incline. Letters were written, emotions expressed, and in the meantime our deadlines loomed ahead. Like a climber who has run out of oxygen, we didn't know enough to give up, and so continued to trudge onward. Luckily we did have some dedicated yearbookies along for the journey. Carly Claffey, Jason Elliott, Melissa Gomez, Keith Merrill, and Kelly Tyler were usually willing to type or draw out pages, as well as re-type or re-draw anything we lost. After endless coaxing, free rides to work, and joyous excursions in green recycling bins, Dan and Alex Brennan added some life to the book with their incredible artwork. The efforts of Kristy Serafin and friends were greatly appreciated in the assembly of the ad section. And just when we were ready to throw ourselves down the stairs we had just climbed, Beth Cimini miraculously figured out the "if you give ... you get ..." type-sizing formula, greatly helping those who had relied on the more light-hearted "guessing" technique. When the sports sections came due, a few athletes pitched in to help, but more often it was Andrew Stinger who provided wonderful stories for sports he'd never actually played, and created captions that always surpassed the likes of "Be Aggressive, B...e...rtrand"

In order to allow us to sprint up the stairs in years to come, we finally took the first step towards a computerized design process, thanks to the helpful staff at Steinmetz Studios. And in time we became so used to "living" at ELHS that not only were we on a first name basis with the janitors (many thanks to Mike and Jerry for putting up with our various late night sessions) - we even held daily contests to see who could spend more consecutive hours at the high school (winner-Jen Wood, 16hrs.).

Now that our climb is finally over, all the long hours, all the cups of coffee and pizza's ordered under mysterious pseudonyms somehow seem worthwhile. We thought that the ascent would never end, but as we sit and look down at all the footsteps behind us we can see that we achieved more than just the completion of a book. Through Marty's unending dedication and leadership, we've been forced to realize what we're truly capable of doing. After four years of life at ELHS we are now ready to take that final step, to move on to what the future holds. The lessons we've learned and the steps we've taken are bound within these pages. Best of luck to those who follow, for the path is long and lonely, but if taken "one step at a time" you'll discover that anything is possible.
